

MADERO WILL NOT SURRENDER CITY OF MEXICO

With 6000 Men at His Command He Will Defy the Forces of Feliz Diaz

Feliz Diaz Plotted After Madero Saved His Life And Repaid Kindness with Ingratitude

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Feliz Diaz, nephew of Porfirio Diaz, is 20 years old. When his uncle was exiled, Feliz was included among the list of "undesirables" and ordered to leave. He announced that he would return and that once more a Diaz would hold sway over Mexico.

While Madero was suppressing the first outbreak in the southern states, Feliz Diaz gathered friends around him in Lower California, and October 12 led a rebel party at Vera Cruz. He seized the city with a force of 300 poorly armed followers.

Fifteen days later, Feliz Diaz, his generals and all his command fell into the hands of federal troops.

The more extreme partisans of Madero, with all the enemies of the Diaz family demanded that the nephew of the former dictator should pay for the brief rebellion with his life. With all his lieutenants he was court-martialed and condemned to be shot.

Friends of Feliz appealed to Madero. Madero commuted the penalty to imprisonment in the hope that the grace toward the nephew would induce the exiled uncle to exert from Paris his influence upon the malcontents for the preservation of peace in Mexico. Feliz, imprisoned in the presidio of San Juan de Udon, continued to plot with friends outside.

On January 6 of this year young Diaz was removed to a penitentiary within 10 miles of Mexico City.

TWO BATTLESHIPS ON ATLANTIC COAST ORDERED TO PORTS OF MEXICO TO WAIT FOR LATE DEVELOPMENTS

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11.—Rebels and federal troops in the Mexican capital have taken up positions and fighting is expected to begin at any moment. Government troops are closing in on the rebels.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The battleships Virginia and Georgia of the Atlantic fleet sailed early today from Guantanamo, Cuba, for Mexico. The Virginia will go to Vera Cruz and the Georgia to Tampico.

Unconfirmed reports state that Zacatecas and Oaxaca, Mexico, have declared for Diaz, who admits delay is hurting his cause, but says he wants to avoid bloodshed.

Organization of a foreign guard is progressing in the City of Mexico. Uniformed police are patrolling the American residential district.

Madero has not less than 6000 soldiers in the city, and expects reinforcements. Diaz has some 3000 men under his command. The advantage given him by the capture of artillery was lost, as the government has had time to bring up field guns.

Thirteen Has Been the Mystic Number of Madero The Thirteenth Son and Believes in Lucky Thirteen

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Francisco I. Madero, prisoner president of Mexico, is a virile, self-contained man 39. One of 13 sons borne by his mother, 13 has been his mystic number. It was February 13, 1911, that Madero, with his brother and thrice 13 companions, crossed the Rio Grande river from Texas into Mexico to end the power of Porfirio Diaz.

He was born and reared in the state of Coahuila.

Before and after the fall of Diaz the career of Madero was stormy.

In 1906 he first came into prominence. Aroused by prejudice to his neighbors, which he attributed to the Diaz system, he sought to elect his friend, Senator Carranza, governor of his native state. Carranza was badly beaten—his friends claimed by official fraud. Madero, before that, student and dreamer, laid aside his books and began a whirlwind nationwide campaign against Diaz.

Until 20 days before the election of 1910 the Maderist movement was laughed at by Diaz and his closest adherents. Then Madero was suddenly seized and thrown into jail. For six months he was held prisoner.

Being released on bail in $8000, he escaped disguised as a laborer to San Antonio, Tex. There he planned the campaign which ended in the fall of Juarez and the retirement of Diaz.

Diaz exiled, Madero assumed the presidency in the fall of 1911. One rebellion followed another until the final blow came.

MONTHLY EARNINGS OF THE BELMONT

A statement issued this afternoon gives the earnings of the Belmont for last month as $154,484 compared with $172,450 the previous month. The falling off is ascribed by the management to the difficulty in hiring miners which has caused a decrease in the number of men on the payroll.

Early Buyers Get Best Choice

"I couldn't find my size," explained a worried looking woman to a friend one afternoon, as she came disconsolately from the waist counter.

"What," she answered, "you couldn't get anything to fit you in these lovely waists? Of course, you don't mean to say you were looking for it now."

"Yes, I was."

"Well, what could you expect at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and you take a thirty-six. You know that size goes faster than anything else."

"I'll know better next time," sighed the disappointed one.

CONTEST OF WILL MRS. MARY EDDY IS ABANDONED

LITIGATION OVER $2,000,000 BE- QUEST TO CHRISTIAN SCI- ENCE CHURCH WITHDRAWN

BOSTON, Feb. 11.—Litigation over the bequest of $2,000,000 made to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston by Mary Baker E. Eddy, ended today when her natural heirs joined with the trustees of the church in proposed decrees entered in the several courts involved.

Coincident with this action, the Massachusetts house concurred with the senate in enabling an act which permits the mother church to accept and use the money for the advancement of Christian Science as directed by its founder.

Four stipulations compose the decrees which were entered simultaneously in the courts of Massachusetts and New Hampshire and the federal court for the district of New Hampshire.

In these George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., and E. J. Foster Eddy of Waterbury, Vt., son and adopted son of Mrs. Eddy, abandoned their suits for a share in the estate and renounced their claims to money left to the church.

The trustees on their part, consent that the administrator shall pay $5000 for the assignment of the son's contingent right to renew in their lifetime the copyrights upon their mother's published works. They further consent that the trustees holding $175,000 (which is the trust fund portion of the $290,000 settled on them by Mrs. Eddy in 1909 in lieu of their share of the estate) shall not further claim that their rights in that fund were forfeited by their action in subsequent court proceedings. As one of the attorneys representing Glover and Foster Eddy, Herbert Parker said last night:

"The stipulations from the viewpoint of the heirs finally and conclusively terminate all present litigation and preclude the possibility of further litigation by them with respect to the disposition of the estate."

"The termination of this litigation has been brought about amicably and voluntarily on the part of the heirs and all parties have joined in mutual consent to the entry of the proposed decrees in the several courts."

and a small detachment of volunteers.

He appeared at the head of this force a mile from the national palace, riding his big gray horse.

By his side rode General Huerta, hero of the campaign against Orozco, and one of the army generals whom the public generally had suspected of being disloyal.

Several blocks from the palace one of Madero's aids attempted to dissuade the president, and placing his hand on the horse's bridle, half turned the animal from the line.

Madero protested vigorously and continued to lead the advance until the shooting began, when General Huerta succeeded in persuading him to enter a building in a side street.

This building, by a coincidence, was the same in which General Reyes took refuge during his campaign for the presidency 18 months ago against a mob of Madero supporters, who attempted to stone him.

The revolt, in its unexpectedness, was such as to stupefy the populace, the lower elements apparently not knowing for whom to cheer.

This is popularly given as the reason for lack of pillaging and looting.

The attack on the national palace found the government not altogether unprepared. In the interim between the release of General Diaz and General Reyes from prison, Gustavo Madero, brother of the president, and Governor Garza of the federal district, learned of the plans of the rebels.

CONTACT MEN CLAIM TO HAVE A GOOD CAMP

EN ROUTE TO ROCHESTER— BRING GOOD REPORTS FROM MINING CAMP

James Downs, G. G. Garletz and G. J. Redsell came in Monday from Contact, the much talked of mining camp in the northern part of Elko county. They made the trip on "Shanks' mare" doing the 55 miles in a little better than a day and a half, and did not seem any the worse for the long trip. They rested a day here and continued on their way to Rochester, where they are going to look over the situation in that phenomenal and sensational camp that came into existence during the closing days of the past year. These men are really not looking for anything better than what they firmly believe is in store for those hardy pioneers at Contact who went there some years ago and have continued to peg away at prospects which are very promising, but they are merely going to get in on the ground floor at Rochester and if anything of any account comes their way they will tie into it and see what the future will do for them.

Each of these men have been at Contact for more than four years and each have several claims which they have been developing. They are enthusiastic as to the future of the camp at Contact and report that more than the usual activity is apparent just now. The Herald is indebted to them for the following items concerning the doings of those at Contact and who are hewing out a line of conduct and improvement that means permanent lodgment.

W. A. Kent, who has been conducting a store in a tent on property that he purchased some time ago, is arranging to build and enlarge his stock of goods to meet the demands of his trade.

L. S. Pratt is remodeling his building, which is used for a hotel and saloon.

George Haas is receiving a carload of lumber from Wells and will soon begin the erection of a building which will be used for a saloon and lodging house.

The coming spring will find Contact up and doing things that go to make a live mining camp, and the people of that burg appreciate the efforts that Wells and Twin Falls are making to secure a railroad line between the two towns, which will of course mean an outlet for Contact that will give that camp more life than anything that could happen.—Wells Herald.
